Your authority and covered material

I sign as the creator or as an authorized representative of the copyright owner of photographs, video, audio, and other media I capture at the event or practice identified above. If I act for an organization, I have authority to grant this license. This agreement establishes media-use permission; it does not create a paid commission, employment relationship, exclusivity, event-access credential, or joint business venture.

License to FAC, teams, and partners

I keep ownership of my original media. I grant FAC a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license to copy, store, edit, crop, caption, publish, display, distribute, and use the covered media for FAC-related event coverage, education, recruitment, promotion, and advertisements, including paid advertising. FAC may extend those same permissions to FAC member teams, authorized FAC event/media partners, and service providers working on those purposes. Unrelated resale, stock licensing by FAC, or unrelated endorsements require a separate written agreement.

The license continues for the copyright term unless FAC and I agree in writing to end it. I receive no fee or royalty unless a separate written contract provides one. FAC will provide reasonable creator credit when practical and when I supply the credit details; omission may be corrected after notice and does not automatically cancel the license.

Delivery and partnership expectations

I will provide agreed files through a delivery method arranged with FAC. This license does not require a fixed number of files or a delivery deadline unless separately agreed in writing. Paid services, deliverables, approval rights, embargoes, sponsorship benefits, and any special restrictions require a separate project agreement. FAC is not promising to publish every file.

Rights, privacy, and access

I will provide only material I own or may license, and identify third-party music, graphics, footage, or restrictions before delivery. I will not promise permissions I do not have. This copyright license does not replace consent from people whose likeness is used or clear third-party rights; FAC must check those rights before advertising or publication.

I will follow event access rules, stop calls, and protected-person or location restrictions, and stay outside combat areas unless separately authorized. Drone flight requires separate organizer approval and compliance with applicable law. My retained rights do not authorize publishing restricted people or material, selling someone else's likeness, or violating an event-specific agreement. For a specifically identified conflict, the event-specific agreement controls that event's covered material; otherwise the agreements remain separate.

I permit use of my supplied name, creator credit, and organization name to identify the media source and FAC partnership, not to imply an unrelated endorsement. I will notify sign@flarmored.org promptly if a rights problem is discovered. Each party remains responsible for its own unlawful conduct. Nothing releases gross negligence, intentional misconduct, or rights that law does not permit to be released. Florida law governs; unenforceable provisions do not invalidate the rest.

Review and sign

Review your name, email, phone, event details, and emergency-contact details before signing. Select a filled field to correct it. The same saved value is used wherever a detail appears again.

Participant Signature

Signature Date

My electronic signature has the same intended effect as my handwritten signature. A completed copy and audit record will be retained in DocuSeal, sent to sign@flarmored.org, and sent to my email. Contact details are used for administration and safety. An event-day roster may show my name and completed waiver types; it will not show my email, phone, emergency contact, or signature. A waiver does not replace staff check-in or approval.
